

Workers Are Chosen to Arrange for Next Great Convention

TENSE MOMENT WHEN REPORT ON OFFICERS CAME

But Incident Passed Quickly and Was Soon Forgotten. Full List of Those Elected.

Amid a tense moment, broken by applause when certain names were read, Chairman Amos R. Butler presented the report of the committee on organization of the conference of Charities and Correction last night, nominating the whole list of officers and committees for the Buffalo meeting next year, the presidency falling to Mr. Ernest P. Bicknell, general superintendent of the Chicago Bureau of Charities, and the first vice-presidency to Mr. Thomas D. Osborne, of Louisville, Ky.

Humors of Opposition. Knowing that there had been some division in the committee on organization, the members of the conference were uncertain as to when the report would be presented, and even to the last moment the possibility of a minority report was generally discussed.

The final session of the committee held in the purser's office on the Pocahontas yesterday settled by unanimous vote all the names except for the presidency. It being reported that Mr. G. L. Schenck, of Kentucky, stood out to the last for the nomination of Mr. Osborne, while Mr. Mornay Williams, of New York, was unalterable in his opposition to the nomination of any one excepting the organized charities of the country, claiming that they were trying to dominate the conference. This latter was an echo of a discussion which threatened the rupture of the conference at the Philadelphia meeting two years ago.

When Chairman Butler arose in the conference last night and announced that he was ready to present the report, there was a general hush of expectancy.

Beginning in a low voice, he said, "I am requested by Mr. Mornay Williams, of New York, to say that he concurs in this report, except as to the selection of a president, and that while he has a high personal regard for Mr. Bicknell, he considers that he represented an interest unduly active in this conference in recent years."

Continuing Mr. Butler said that with few exceptions the report of the committee was unanimous. The name of Mr. Bicknell for the presidency was greeted with long continued hand clapping from all parts of the house. In every case the announcements of the committee were greeted with applause. The nominations were seconded by Mr. Schenck, and were adopted unanimously.

Virginia on Committee. A number of Virginia people find places on the assignments to the various sectional committees which will have in their hands the shaping of the Buffalo conference. Mr. George B. Davis, superintendent of Public Charities of Richmond, is made a member of the executive committee. The state corresponding secretary for Virginia is Dr. William F. Drewry, of Petersburg. Dr. Paulus A. Irving is named on the committee on State supervision and administration, a new and strong body, Mrs. E. C. Minor, of Richmond, being a member of the same committee.

At the close of the meeting President Mulry informally expressed his approval of the report, saying he thought it would make for a strong and interesting conference in Buffalo next year.
